Écho

General Audience 2000

In Écho Harold invites us into his living room and his private life. Alone on stage, he works the sound and lights himself, achieving a rarely-seen transparency, creating moments of tenderness, poignancy and humour we can all relate to.

"(...) Rhéaume delivers a genuine and moving performance, laying himself bare and winning over the audience." La Presse, May 2000

"Sold (...) the audience gave Harold Rhéaume a warm round of applause on the opening night." Le Soleil, December 2000

Les Cousins

Ages 6 to 10 2000

Co-produced with the Les Coups de Théâtre festival (Montreal), the National Arts Centre (Ottawa) and Kopergietery Teater (Gent, Belgium)

The mischievous Cousins invite us to take a spin around their world, a kid's universe filled with heroes, games, secret missions and scary stories. There is no lack of humour, energy and capers. Not for adults at heart!

"A playful and festive show that will leave you smiling." Le Devoir, November 2002

Morta

General Audience 2002

Produced for Puzzle Danse, a project bringing together four choreographers from France and Quebec.

Two fragile human beings, distressed by the other's absence, take us to the heart of this universal human tragedy: the one we all fear. A sorrowful, spine-tingling slow dance on the theme of death. Audiences wept.

"The nicest gift offered by Puzzle Danse is Morta (...). Subtle movements (...) combine with moving music to create a beautiful, touching moment." Le Soleil, November 2002

"The highlight of the evening (...) a duet who shoot straight to the heart." La Presse, November 2002

C.O.R.R.

General Audience 2003

Rhéaume's tribute to women, especially his mother (whose passing during the creation process made the show all the more meaningful). Slow movements, thoughtful beauty, and intangible exchanges. An intimate setting exploring the hidden sides of three women in what appears to be a dream.

"Unforgettable moments! (...) C.O.R.R. has all Rhéaume's signature elements: obsessive attention to detail (...) subtle and sensitive movements." Voir, March 2003

F.U.L.L.

Ages 12 and up 2003

A close-up of a group of teenagers trying to find themselves. We meet Florence, Ulie, Lola, and Laïla who learn that being in a gang is not all fun and games, but also rivalry, rejection and conflict.

"FULLY HOT! Harold Rhéaume has found a way to reach teenagers (...). The dancers dazzle in their roles, somewhere between theatre and dance. "It sent shivers down my spine," said one young spectator." Le Soleil, March 2003
